Jon Solberg lap steel, vocals, mandolin    Anders E. Røine vocals, gitar    Trond Villa violin, mandolin    Ken-Børre Langås double bass, vocals

Hank's a lot is based in Bø in Telemark, the area by many recognized as the very heart of norwegian folk music traditotion. The members are skilled and experienced musicians with a wide range of references, such as norwegian traditional, classical, balkan, blues and rockabilly music. All members of Hank's a lot are available on record with other projects in 2005.

Jon – string man & singer, 1st album with his own band this year (www.bygdabilly.com)

Anders – multi instumentalist who shows up almost everywhere in norwegian folk music.

Trond – Classically trained, multiple talented violin man, pro for more than 30 years.

Ken-Børre – long experienced bass player with numerous influences.

Hank's a lot is playin' old style, but since the band mainly presents the treasures of Hank Williams in front of a norwegian audience, many of the lyrics are translated into norwegian by Hank's a lot, too.

Though performed with norwegian lyrics, the magic of the songs are beyond words:

Jimmy Porter, great steel guitar player and original member of Hank Williams and The Drifting Cowboys, said this about Hank's a lot:

*It sounds great to me and to hear Hank being sung in your native language is unbelievable.
Keep up this good work - it will pay off for you and the band.*
